COMPANY INFORMATION

We have come a long way since 1982, when Jorgen Troelsen first established Troels from a small village in Salling, Denmark, but one thing has always run deep in our veins – our passion to craft furniture that is good, lasting and comfortable...nothing less.

People often ask us, what makes Troels so different when compared to other furniture manufacturers in the market...It all begins with the robust production processes we apply that ensures we limit our impact on the environment, and the premium quality of the material we select, that ensures innovation is always an integral part of our furniture craftsmanship.

The furniture we produce is tailored specifically for the individual customer, where they can choose their own configuration, material, and feel from the long list we have available to them. Customers can walk away with something that meets their own unique definition of "Comfortable". It is the extent of this personalisation of quality that makes us stand out.

We invite you to try Troels for yourself.
