BDI Introduces Cora Collection of Storage Tables

Intros Include New Coffee Table, Console Table and End Table Designs

CHANTILLY, Va. — Oct. 13, 2023 — BDI, a premiere furniture designer and manufacturer of office, bedroom, storage and entertainment solutions, is debuting a new collection of storage tables at the High Point Market. The Cora collection is available in three table designs and can be seen in BDI's showroom, IHFC D724.

Designed by Matthew Weatherly, Cora features a striking hardwood louvered design and includes accessible, understated drawers that offer a wealth of storage for any space. Cora is available in three table models:

Cora Coffee Table

Combining sophistication and a modern aesthetic, the Cora coffee table features louvered hardwoods on the front and back, allowing the design to easily float in a room. Two concealed drawers offer ample storage for items such as remote controllers, game components, magazines and more. The coffee table measures 16"H x 50"W x 26"D, offering a generous table top surface.

Cora Console Table

At home in an entryway or under a TV, The Cora console is a sleek design with multi-use functionality in mind. It features a louvered front design that matches other Cora tables, and offers two lined storage drawers, along with a lower shelf for display items. The Cora console measures 30"H x 60"W x 16"D, making it an adaptable and attractive design as a slim sideboard, behind the couch, or as a convenient hallway console.

Cora End Table

The Cora end table is an elegant table design that is right at home next to a sofa or even as a bedroom side table. Featuring Cora's signature striking louvered design, the end table includes a pull-out drawer for concealed storage and a lower shelf for display space. The design also boasts a power management shelf on the back, allowing a power strip to easily stay concealed, while the drawer offers easy access to the power hub for charging devices. The Cora end table measures 24"H x 22"W x 22"D, providing a seamless blend of style and function.

"Cora has been thoughtfully designed to be at home in many spaces, offering a versatile collection with smart storage features," said Weatherly. "Plus, with its beautiful louvered design, the Cora tables also coordinate perfectly with BDI's most popular entertainment and storage collections, allowing you to easily bring these designs into any room in your home."

All pieces in the Cora collection offer lined drawers to keep contents in place, low profile drawer pulls that do not disrupt the design aesthetic, and feet levelers to account for uneven flooring. Cora is available in BDI's Natural Walnut or Ebonized Ash finishes.
