

Luxury Home Decor and Accessories Company, Luho Design House, Makes Market Debut at April 2024 High Point Market

Luho Design House, a new entrant in the luxury home decor and accessories market, is set to unveil its debut collection this April 2024 High Point Market. The company will showcase its exquisite offerings for the first time at G-6047 Salon in the Suites at Market Square.

Founded by seasoned product design and development professional Jessica Allen, Luho Design House brings a fresh perspective to contemporary living. Drawing from her extensive experience, including over 18 years with premier contemporary furniture company Interlude Home, Jessica Allen's vision for Luho Design House is centered on celebrating artisan craftsmanship and redefining contemporary living.

"At Luho Design House, our vision is centered on celebrating artisan craftsmanship and redefining contemporary living with an emphasis on natural materials, textures, and quiet luxury," says Jessica Allen, Founder and CEO of Luho Design House.

The company's curated collection of home decor features an array of original designs that seamlessly blend texture, materiality, and sculptural form to create conversation-worthy accessories. Each item is a testament to Luho Design House's commitment to uniqueness and quality.

"We take pride in offering more than just products; we provide an experience where every piece tells a story of craftsmanship and brings a touch of global inspiration, texture, and whimsy to your space," adds Allen.

Luho Design House invites visitors to experience a world where each item is not just decor but a reflection of artistry and the essence of quiet luxury. With a love for natural materials, texture, and artisan craft, Luho Design House promises to captivate attendees at the April 2024 High Point Market.
