

KAMIYA FURNITURE

A marriage.

In my work, I aim to convey the labor and beauty of unification.

Where many may see a chair, I see its parts: the legs, rails, seat and back. I know the work that must be done to rough out each component from it's raw state, and to train each to hold tight to one another.

Each component makes it's own sacrifice. Portions of each are chiseled away, refashioned and tested for fit. When the work is complete and each part united, many pieces become One; transformed into something greater.

No nails.

No screws.

No stains.

I don't use nails or screws in my furniture because I want my pieces to be held together according to their fit, not by force. I don't use stains because I honor the particular characteristics of each board I hand select.

The process is long-suffering and hard-fought but the results are honest and pure. My work is a marriage; enduring and beautiful.

Timeless.

A Kamiya Furniture piece sheds the superfluous and draws out the essential. What remains is elegant, true and wholesome.

Our approach leads to a beautifully balanced piece; in form, proportion and detail. We labor to create simple, sophisticated pieces.

We don't care to be extravagant or trendy - We aim to endear and endure.

Whether positioned along a wall or floated in a room, each piece is created to reflect the joy and romance of the hand-written note.

Sliding dovetail joinery joins the top to the base to allow for seasonal wood movement. Polished brass pegs fasten the table top, and similarly, form the drawer pulls and drawer stops.

This writer's desk offers a modest drawer for your client's cherished writing implement, as well as a larger drawer for 8.5 x 11 paper with six partitions and a hidden compartment.

A note in your symphony.

A Kamiya Furniture piece catches the eye without clamoring for attention. Our work doesn't boast, but rather, harmonizes.

The Autumn Entry is reversible, front to back, so that the drawer can be oriented either to the right or to the left to welcome your design ideas. It is equally comfortable along a wall or floated within a room.

Its hand-turned bowl serves as a "vide poche" (French for "empty pockets") to collect keys, change and daily miscellany. The singular floating drawer adds order to your comings and goings.

Concealed sliding dovetails fix the center panel to the case sides allowing for seasonal wood movement.

Title: #0056 - Cindy Knockdown Bench

Materials: Shown in Oxidized Walnut, Ambrosia Maple
and Brass. Customizable.

Dimensions: Shown at
60" W x 20" H (Seat 18") x 20" D.
Customizable.

The rich, dark Walnut pictured here is a result of an oxidation process. Applying a simple vinegar and iron mixture causes the wood tones to shift darker by reacting with the wood's natural tannins.

Because the vinegar mixture is organic, and because this oxidation technique is a natural process (however exaggerated) that preserves woodgrain characteristics, we offer this surface treatment for those who are in the mood.

Made to order from a limited stock of exceptional grade Ambrosia Maple (as shown).

Also available in a monotone black (oxidized Walnut throughout).

Storage piece. Art piece.

Kamiya Furniture pieces strive to strike a balance between art and functionality. Each is unique and specially made for those who appreciate originality, diligence and beauty.

Every curve is refined by hand, and every hard edge softened and welcoming to the touch. Our work is truly a form of expression and each is admired by its maker and owner.

Title: #0061 - Knockdown Chair

Materials: Shown in Walnut and Brass.
Customizable.

Dimensions:
22" W x 27" H (seat 18") x 23" D.

Like every Kamiya Furniture piece, this beloved chair reinforces the aesthetic and emotional quality of interior spaces and expresses the union between the designed environment and the natural world.

This knockdown chair can ship fully assembled or flat-packed (to reduce environmental impact). Assembles in less than five minutes and only requires a rubber mallet.

A modern, minimalist wooden chair is the central focus, positioned on a sandy beach. The chair is made of dark-stained wood, featuring a thick, rectangular backrest, a round seat, and four tapered legs. The seat is supported by a horizontal wooden beam that connects the legs. The chair is set against a backdrop of clear, shallow water and a large, weathered tree branch extending from the top left. The scene is brightly lit, casting a distinct shadow of the chair onto the sand.
