

Cortney Bishop's Debut Collection with Hudson Valley Lighting Fuses Craftsmanship and Modern Elegance

Wappingers Falls, NY – April 25th, 2025 – Hudson Valley Lighting is proud to announce the launch of its latest designer collection in collaboration with internationally renowned interior designer Cortney Bishop, the creative visionary behind Cortney Bishop Design. Debuting at High Point Market, the collection includes 14 lighting families, each blending bohemian charm with refined sophistication through natural silk shades, delicate perforated details, and striking scale that infuse spaces with both whimsy and elegance.

Bishop is celebrated for her sophisticated, modern, and organic design style, which seamlessly blends artisan craft, organic textures, and a balance of raw and refined elements. Drawing inspiration from travel, music, art, and vintage finds, Bishop's approach embraces the tension between structured and free-spirited, old-world and contemporary. In her new lighting collection with Hudson Valley Lighting, she channels these influences to explore bold contrasts.

The collection features thoughtfully designed pieces that evoke timeless craftsmanship and strikes a perfect balance between artistry and functionality. Each fixture is crafted to add depth and atmosphere to any space, combining artisan materials with earthy finishes like heritage bronze, gradient brass, and verdigris metal, that reinterpret vintage designs with a modern edge. "I wanted this collection to feel lighthearted and artisan-driven, yet grounded in refinement and timelessness," said Bishop. "Each piece is an invitation to play and explore design—it's about lighting that doesn't just illuminate a room, but transforms it."

Each of the 14 lighting families in the collection has its own personality, designed to stand alone as statement pieces or seamlessly complement other elements within a space. The family names in the collection reflect deeply personal connections to Bishop's life in Charleston, with names like Bohicket, inspired by a special piece of waterfront land where she is building her dream home. These names infuse the collection with a sense of place and significance, tying her design philosophy to her surroundings.
