LILLIAN AUGUST DEBUTS THE ANTIQUAIRE COLLECTION: A MULTI-GENERATIONAL REVIVAL OF EUROPEAN AND SCANDINAVIAN ROMANCE

HIGH POINT, N.C. – This fall, Lillian August proudly unveils the Antiquaire Collection, a timeless homage to European and Scandinavian antique reproductions, thoughtfully reimagined by three generations of the brand’s creative family. Designed in collaboration by Dan Weiss and Eliza Weiss, son and granddaughter of Lillian herself, this revival brings back a beloved aesthetic first explored over a decade ago in her North Carolina home, now infused with fresh color, charm, and handcrafted artistry.

“Our goal was to honor the legacy of timeless design while evolving it for a new generation of collectors,” says Dan Weiss, co-founder. “Antiquaire is not only a collection, but also a story of history and craftsmanship passed down through family and design.”

Inspired by Lillian’s own home in High Point, the collection features 27 new casegoods that reflect a romantic and restrained design language. Scandinavian forms and aged bronze accents come to life in soft white and grey distressed painted finishes, evoking the elegance of one-of-a-kind antiques. Skilled artisans craft each piece using traditional techniques, ensuring authenticity and heirloom quality.

Adorning the showroom is a palette of Scandinavian blues, bush pinks, seafoam greens, and cabbage rose florals, layered with stripes, silks, and vintage motifs, which reflect the brand’s fashion-forward sensibility.

Other Product highlights include:

Pietra Desk - Designed with sleek curves and softened edges, the Pietra Desk offers a modern profile rooted in artisan craftsmanship. The textured wrapped raffia accentuates the waterfall silhouette, while three subtly integrated drawers maintain a clean visual flow.

Pridwin Sectional – The Pridwin Sectional is a low-profile piece that strikes a balance between generous seating and tailored lines. At the same time, cylinder bolsters add a crisp finishing detail. Its left-arm chaise invites laid-back lounging, making it a go-to favorite.
