

Splashworks Debuts “A Splash of Cool” at Fall High Point Market

Art for walls, furniture and beyond – made in High Point

HIGH POINT, October 12, 2025 – Splashworks is set to make waves at the Fall 2025 High Point Market with A Splash of Cool – a presentation of more than 40 new introductions including wall art, decorative pillows and furniture. The Splashworks showroom is located at 515 W. English Road.

Three new North Carolina–based artists join the Splashworks family this season, each with a distinctive voice:

- Christina Hill – vibrant portraits alive with bold color and expressive energy
- Bren West – abstract canvases that weave pattern, motion and a sense of layered storytelling
- Gabe Fonorow – structured yet fluid works that echo the rhythm and improvisation of jazz

Also new this Market – Off the Wall, a debut collection that fuses fine art and furniture. In this introduction, Splashworks fabricates and hand-tailors original works of art on chairs, benches and other upholstered pieces – a fresh expression of the brand’s ongoing passion for living artfully.

Splashworks also takes art outdoors. Beginning Saturday, October 25, artist Alex Figueroa will transform the 10’ x 90’ white brick wall on the Splashworks campus into a living mural – evolving throughout Market as visitors watch creativity unfold in real time.

“Fall Market is always a chance to re-set expectations,” says Tom Van Dessel, Splashworks founder. “This season we’re upending them. We believe art is alive – not static on museum walls, but part of the creative current that connects people, place and possibility. All will be revealed at Market.”
