Thayer Coggin Debuts the Fannie Swivel Lounge Chair at Fall High Point Market

HIGH POINT, NC – Thayer Coggin proudly announces the debut of the Fannie Swivel Lounge Chair at the Fall High Point Furniture Market. Designed by Ransom Culler, Fannie brings an unexpected sense of joy and motion to modern interiors.

True to its name, Fannie expresses its personality through its distinctive fan-shaped back and 360-degree swivel base. Available in brushed stainless, brushed bronze, or any Thayer Coggin powder coat finish, the base provides smooth movement and adaptable style for a range of design aesthetics.

Fannie's sculptural form is complemented by a gently curved plywood back and plump, top-stitched upholstery. The tight seat and back are crafted with layers of foam and fiber, offering both visual cheerfulness and exceptional comfort. The result is a lounge chair that feels as good as it looks – playful, polished, and full of life.

“Fannie is full of character. It's playful without sacrificing sophistication,” says designer Ransom Culler. “We wanted to create something that brings a smile while delivering the comfort and craftsmanship people expect from Thayer Coggin.”

Designed and bench-made in High Point, North Carolina, the Fannie Swivel Lounge Chair embodies Thayer Coggin's dedication to innovative design and impeccable construction.
