FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

High Point, N.C. - (March 12, 2026) - California based contemporary home furnishings brand, Armen Living, is sharing news as they prepare to open the doors on their new 12,000 sq-ft showroom at 417 S. Wrenn Street. With exciting plans to celebrate a milestone anniversary on Sunday, April 26th for their National Sales Manager, Reb Nicholson's 100th High Point Market.

"This market will be one for the record books! We could not be more thrilled for how all of the stars have aligned with our recent acquisition and purchase of a property in High Point." Kevin Kevonian, owner, President, and CEO, of Armen Living and Uwharrie Outdoor Living shared. "To be able to honor Reb Nicholson's 100th anniversary in our new showroom, and bring the design and trade community together, is an incredible feeling. We look forward to celebrating with our industry and to shining a light on Reb's impressive career, his dedication to his craft and to our unstoppable sales team, for both our iconic brands."

Reb Nicholson's impressive work history spans 5-decades for nationally known and recognized brands. Accumulating his experience in a variety of leadership roles, includes starting out in merchandising, evolving into his being a furniture buyer, creating and leading teams, managing retail locations, and through it all being highly respected and regarded for his love of the home furnishings industry and his never ending drive.

Reb's career began in 1972 with retail giant Levitz Furniture in Camp Springs, Maryland, where he was initially hired as a merchandiser responsible for creating vignettes, tagging merchandise, and preparing the store for its grand opening. As his merchandising expertise increased and his insight into his customer base broadened, Reb was soon promoted to Regional Buyer and ultimately managed purchasing for several categories for 13 stores across the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast.

Moving up the corporate ladder Reb held positions as Executive Vice President, for B. Bugatch Furniture, where he oversaw operations for 10 stores in the Baltimore, Maryland area. After several successful years as EVP, Reb joined The Lane Company where he spent a total of 16 years as both an independent representative before moving into larger leadership roles, including Regional Sales Manager and Vice President of National Accounts.

Looking back on his career, Reb reminisces about how the industry has evolved, "It's remarkable how significantly our industry has grown and changed throughout my career. Early on, we had no laptops or cell phones, and buying and ordering were done by hand and faxed to the office. Now younger reps have never even seen a fax and we are still evolving with advances in technology and AI."

Other notable roles with recognizable companies includes Reb's role as the Vice President of Sales for Stoneville Furniture, The Powell Company, Magnussen Home, and Designmaster, and most recently, Reb spent 10 years with Classic Home—first as an independent rep and later managing a region of sales representatives—before joining Armen Living five years ago, as their National Sales Manager, and where currently manages 20+ reps all across the country.

Two of Reb's longest standing industry relationships and teammates at Armen Living, Randy Graboski, Key Account Executive and Steve Riley, Key Accounts, commented about knowing Reb for more than 30 years, "We are incredibly honored to celebrate Reb's 100th High Point Market, alongside our customers, industry professionals and our Armen Living team. Having worked beside Reb in several roles and at different companies, there is truly no one we admire more, who is more passionate about building relationships, and who works harder for his customers."

"This business thrives on relationships; strong connections with team members, buyers, representatives, and entrepreneurial owners who drive businesses forward. Throughout my career, I have enjoyed developing teams and partnering with dealers, representatives, and staff to create programs that deliver meaningful business results." Reb Nicholson shares, "I am fortunate to work with an outstanding team—Kevin Kevonian, Holly Lightfoot, Randy Graboski, Steve Riley who we coined the dream team—as well as our other dedicated reps, staff, and dealers. With the acquisition of Uwharrie Chair and the opening of our new High Point showroom, we are not slowing down, and my focus is to deepen dealer partnerships and drive growth across the combined portfolio."

Armen Living invites market attendees to join them for Reb Nicholson's 100th High Point Market on Sunday, April 26th, from 5:00–8:00 PM, in their new showroom at 417 S. Wrenn Street. The celebration will include delicious catering, craft cocktails, draft beer and a full bar. Customers, market attendees, and industry representatives are all welcome to RSVP to attend on Eventbrite.

To add to the night's fun atmosphere Armen Living tapped the industry's go-to resource for live local talent, Ray Allegrezza, who is bringing together an all-industry band "The Armen Hammers." Ray Allegrezza, on lead guitar, Jodie Davis, guitar, Jerry Farmer, bass, and David Madora, on drums, will perform from 6-8 pm during Reb's 100th Anniversary Party.

"When I learned that this spring market represents Reb's 100th High Point Market, it was music to my ears. What better way to celebrate and honor Reb for all he has done for the industry than with a musical tribute from a band composed entirely of furniture folks." Ray Allegranza, Editor Emeritus, Furniture Today, commented. "Reb is one of the people who make this industry great, and the band can't wait to celebrate his milestone with him."

Armen Living and Uwharrie Outdoor Living's new showroom at 417 S. Wrenn Street will be open daily from 8:00 AM - 6:00 pm beginning Monday, April 20 - Wednesday, April 29th.
