The Wildflower Collection

Handcrafted from local clay by artisanal potters in Northern Thailand, the Wildflower vase collection is wheel-thrown, bisque-fired, then glaze-fired at 1,300 degrees Celsius, for enduring beauty and structural integrity, lending years of enjoyment and the ability to become heirloom pieces.

Wildflower was inspired by the ephemeral flora of tropical monsoon climates, blooming brightly after the first thunderstorm following the dry season. Available in Large and Small, and in three botanical species—Cornflower (blue), Milkweed (pale grey-green), and Paintbrush (vibrant coral red)—each design features a bisque base, ruffled rim, warm white background glaze, and intricately hand-applied, intertwined stems and blossoms that gracefully reach upward, adorning the circumference.

The vases are finished with ruffled rims, and each piece bears subtle variations found only in truly handmade objet d'art.
