New release
Flick-Flack - design Anna von Schewen

Flick-Flack is a semi-sectional sofa reminiscent of a cosy and intimate nest, despite its extremely linear formal design. The mechanism theme combines with comfort in this functional project of unique aesthetic impact. One cushion on top of another, a simple vision transforms the pillow into a structural element. The silent mechanism enables all the cushions to be raised to offer complete relaxation and asymmetric sections confirm the contemporary vision of the project which may also be used in particularly large interior spaces.

St. Germain e Kanaha - design Daniele Lo Scalzo Moscheri
Kris, Lennox, Miller e Urban - design Spessotto&Agnolotto

St. Germain is a new, typical example of a multi-expressive sofa that takes a knowledgeable step back into the past while retaining the timeless appeal of an ageless classic: a carefully crafted object.

Kanaha is based on a metal structure that reinterprets the planning style of the big masters of contemporary design. Back cushions are thinner near the armrests: their details of junction proposes an innovative sartorial solution that connects different components.

With its clean, elegant lines, Urban features particularly soft seats due to its relaxed feather cushions giving you a feeling of snug comfort. Urban's great versatility and modularity allow you to choose the composition, materials and shapes that are best suited to the requirements of your living area.

Kris is an evergreen sofa. This new version is enhanced by a quilted structure and new, tubular feet. A clear reinterpretation of the most refined Art Decò style that has always beautified the most stylish homes in the world.

Miller fits into any context, whether it is a reconverted industrial space or a modern-style villa, with its extreme elegance and its lines inspired by American and North European traditions. The distinguishing feature is its sober yet distinct personality.

Lennox offers elements in which the height of the dorsal supporting surface varies depending on the position of the seat. As well as with a dual-height backrest, Lennox is also available with a singleheight back. The informal version of the back comes with scatter cushions while the more tradition one has uninterrupted, plain backrest cushions. Available with an elegant matt black finish.

Complementary furniture

The world of living furniture is now complementary to a range of accessories such as Tondina lamps and Dialogo storage elements, designed by Spessotto & Agnoletto that increase the new Ditre Italia collection.

Tondina is a lighting fixture in metal and glass where the light becomes the protagonist of a project whose function is effaced in the minimal and poetic trait of a light source of solar purity. Available in two variants, as a floor-standing or table lamp. Two glass finishes: clear and opaline.

Dialogo is a family of storage elements, sideboards and TV stands, whose slim structure is supported by a metal frame enhancing its functional volume. It establishes a strong bond with upholstered elements thanks to a "textile" finish deriving from an original wood texture in shades of grey and dove grey. This finish, an alternative to the variant in Eucalyptus wood, defines the storage elements of the sideboards and TV stand.
