HURTADO Furniture Set to Premiere Elegant and Sophisticated New Additions of the BOND Collection at Spring HPM 2022

Los Angeles- (2/9/22) - For over 81 years, Hurtado Furniture has distinguished itself as a high-quality furniture brand devoted to tradition and attention to detail. This Spring, Hurtado will debut their newest additions to the BOND Collection during High Point Market. The Bond Dining Room offers a contemporary feel with its wooden or marble top, geometric design, and metal accents on its base. A true classic, the collection offers a multitude of wood and metal finishes showcasing the brand's impeccable craftsmanship. The introductions will include dining tables, credenzas and side chairs. As part of the Evolution Collection, the newest additions will be available in different finishes and metal options. The latest BOND Collection can be viewed during market from April 2-6, 2022 in showroom 208 W. English Road, NC.

The full BOND Collection includes bedroom and occasional pieces that are offered in all finishes from evolution, all metals and marble top options. The Bond Collection features geometric shapes and irregular plates in the designs that became the signature style. Despite the delays many manufacturers are experiencing, production and shipping for the Bond Collection will not be affected. Hurtado's lead time for shipping is about 90 days from High Point.

The Bond Dining Table creates a harmonious dining room space with its natural wood or marble top and stainless steel base. The table has self-storing leaves to accommodate larger parties, a great addition to an elegant dining setting. As part of the Evolution Collection, the table is also available in different finishes and metal options.
