

Craftsmanship at its best SALDA @ High Point Market

Everything is ready for departure to High Point Market, the largest fair in the home furnishing sector in the world.

SALDA will in fact participate with a selection of classic and contemporary pieces chosen for their main feature: the ability to represent Italian craftsmanship at its best.

Entirely handmade workmanship, precious finishes and quality materials directly inspired by the classic heritage of Italian culture characterize this selection of furniture that unmistakably recalls the SALDA style.

"With this selection we want to bring to the High Point Market our furnishing philosophy, our vision of the world of craftsmanship and Italian know-how handed down in the shop from father to son - explains Elisa Besana, Sales Manager and latest generation of SALDA family -. Our vision unfolds through products chosen for a young and contemporary market, attentive to classic details and the highest quality of raw materials and workmanship ".
